AMES HIGH SCHOOL
AMES, IOWA

FOREWORD

The excitement of football games, laughter of students echoing through the halls, school parties, opening night of "The Loud Red Patrick," junior car wash, field trips for biology, clatter of typewriters from 111, Junior-Senior Frolic, graduation . . . these are some of the ingredients of the Ames High Spirit. We have tried to capture between the covers of the 1960 SPIRIT some of your memories of this important year. It was for you, the students, that this book was made, and it is to you we wish to present it.

SUPERINTENDENT AND SCHOOL BOARD

Working closely together in order to plan the best policies for the Ames school system were Mr. Walter Hetzel, Superintendent of schools, and the school board. One of the main problems under consideration this year was how to house the growing number of pupils in all the schools. The first unit of the new high school, to be ready in the fall of 1960, will be part of the solution to this problem. In addition, the curriculum in many schools was changed and adapted where needed, and new courses and books were chosen to fit these changes.

Mr. Hetzel was responsible for seeing that the policies of the school board were carried out. The school board, which met on the second Monday of every month, determined the budget for all the schools and planned the changes that are necessary. This year, president of the board was Mr. Frank E. Adams; Mr. Frank Howell was secretary, and Mr. Hiram Munn was treasurer.

PRINCIPAL

In his sixteenth year as the high school administrator, Mr. Herbert Adams was in charge of a great many various student and school affairs. He co-ordinated activities to the best advantage of both students and teachers; he planned many school functions; he arranged the schedule of classes at the beginning of each new semester and helped students with scheduling problems; he presided over the sound system every morning; and he was always willing to discuss with any student pertinent school questions.

This year Mr. Adams was presented with many additional problems as preparation was made to move certain classes to the first building of the new high school. Involved in this transition were the completion of architectural plans, the ordering of additional books and supplies, and coordinating affairs between the two schools. Many difficulties have yet to be eliminated, a task that will require the combined efforts of both students and teachers.

COOKS

Mrs. Maud Marsh, Mrs. Cornelia Erickson, Mrs. Anna Moreland.

Carefully planned and cooked by Mrs. Marsh with the help of Mrs. Erickson and Mrs. Moreland, meals served in the Ames High cafeteria met government standards for a Type A lunch. A student staff helped by operating the cash register, serving food, selling extra milk, and washing dishes.

With the increased number of students at Ames High and at Central Junior High, the two schools served by the cafeteria, it became necessary to revise procedures this year. A standard plate is now served for 35 cents, with an opportunity to go back for a second helping.

Keeping the Ames High School building clean and in good condition was more than a full time job for the three custodians. They came early in the morning, stayed late after school, and were available outside of school hours whenever activities were going on in the building.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The object of Student Council as is stated in the Student Council Constitution "shall be to represent the ideas and ideals of the student body, to promote the welfare of the institution, and to develop an understanding and love of democracy through use." Presided over by student body president Lars Laslett first semester and Charles Dahm second semester, Student Council sponsored many school activities throughout the year. Some of the major projects were Back-to-School Night, Homecoming, Career Day, and elections for student body president.

The work of the Council was carried out through the following committees: Service, Publicity, Assembly, Social, Citizenship, Homecoming, Noon Hour, Welcoming, Election, and Awards.

Officers this year were: Howard Judge first semester and Steve Grooms second semester vice-presidents; Susie Reed first semester and Beth Strand second semester secretaries; Chuck Boast, treasurer.

SENIOR SENATE ORGANIZES CLASS ACTIVITIES

Managing the business affairs of the Class of '60 was the primary function of Senior Senate. Among the projects that they organized and supervised this year were the Senior Class Play, the ordering and distribution of caps and gowns, the senior picnic, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Heading the Senate were the class officers elected at the end of last year. They were: president, Steve Dreeszen; vice-president, Jim Piper; secretary, Vicky Kirkham; and treasurer Ilo Leppik. One member elected from each senior homeroom at the beginning of the year also served in the Senate.

JUNIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The juniors were busy this year vigorously washing cars, producing a play, and practicing salesmanship in selling school directories and Homecoming mums. With the money earned from these projects, they provided floral arrangements for Baccalaureate and Commencement and sponsored the Junior-Senior Frolic, at which the school board and faculty, as well as the seniors, were guests of the junior class.

These activities and money making projects were planned by and carried through under the direction of the junior Executive Council, which was advised by Mr. George MacBride. The council, composed of a representative from each junior homeroom, was ably served by John Hagge, president; Tom Buchholtz, vice-president; Alison Shepherd, secretary; and Muriel Shearer, treasurer.

Offering sports for all boys not engaged in varsity competition, the intramural program is under the supervision of Mr. Smalling. Any boy who has not won a major in varsity competition is eligible to compete in the three classes. Trophies are awarded to the three class champions that are chosen by a point system. The intramural council acts as a mediator in any problems that may arise during the year.

GAA: SPORTS FOR ALL GIRLS

Providing an intramural program for Ames High girls, the Girls Athletic Association (GAA) worked toward developing play spirit and greater physical efficiency. Every girl was invited to participate in one of the activities which included such sports as volleyball, bowling, basketball, trampolining, and softball. Mrs. Carol Lockhart supervised the participating girls every Monday and Wednesday after school.

Cabinet members this year were: Nancy Preston, president; Rosie Diehl, vice-president; Beth Strand, secretary-treasurer; Sandy Gowan, point recorder; Pam Cole, intramural chairman; and Mary Dresser and Darla Hanlin, social chairmen. A representative council was made up of one girl elected from each homeroom.

It was quite impressive to see the Marching Band followed by the Marching Pep Club parade in formation across the field before home football games. Particularly eye-catching were the rows of Pep Club members in their orange jackets and black skirts as they sat together in the bleachers at both football and basketball games.

The girls also served as ticket-takers, ushers, provided half-time entertainment at basketball games, and organized several money-making projects. All seniors girls were eligible to be members of Pep Club, providing they abided by the rules and maintained passing grades in three subjects.

The officers of Pep Club and the Council, under the direction of Miss Diane Clausen, were in charge of organizing and coordinating all their various activities. Officers this year were: Diane Tripp, president; Joan Holtz, vice-president; Judy Elliot, secretary; and Rosalie Larson, treasurer. The Council consisted of two representatives from each senior homeroom.

AMES 27 EAST SIOUX CITY 7

The Little Cyclones opened their 1959 campaign with a convincing win over highly-regarded East. Dave Chipman scored from 5 and 53 yards out and Mickey Von Bergen scored from the 1. Dave Page raced over from the 15 for the other tally. Page, Chipman, and Von Bergen rounded out the scoring with conversions.

AMES 27 NEWTON 0

Ames scored their first conference win at the expense of Newton on a rainswept field. Mike Cox scored two touchdowns on identical 3 yard runs and Dave Page scored from 42 yards out. Tom Buchholtz's 48 yard jaunt and three conversions finished out the scoring.

AMES 61 GRINNELL 7

Grinnell fell before the Cyclone onslaught for Ames' third win of the season. Ames touchdowns were scored by Mike Cox, Dave Chipman, Ron Fain, Gary Fernandes, and Bob Van Scoy. Longest run of the evening was made by Dave Chipman when he grabbed a Grinnell aerial and raced 90 yards for a touchdown. Three conversions by Dave Agard and Bob Van Scoy finished out the Ames total.

AMES 13 BOONE 7

AMES 20 WEST WATERLOO 27

Ames suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of West in the latter's Homecoming. Mike Cox scored from the 2 and 3 and Dave Page scored from 8 yards out. Two penalties set up West's winning Tally in the fourth quarter.

AMES 7 BURLINGTON 39

Burlington, rated number 1 in the state, ruined Ames High's Homecoming with a 39-7 win over the Ames men. Playing on a rainswept field, a pass play from Dave Childs to Ron Fain covered 70 yards for an Ames score. Dave Page ran over for the conversion. From then on it was all Burlington as several mistakes foiled Ames scoring bids.

AMES 25 OSKALOOSA 12

Led by the offensive play of Mickey Von Bergen and Mike Cox and the defensive play of Blaine Zenor, Steve Rust, and Craig Ritland, the Little Cyclones overwhelmed Osky 25-12. Mike Cox scored from the 1, 3, and 4 and Von Bergen scored from the 4. Bob VanScoy added a conversion.

AMES 21—MARSHALLTOWN 12

Ames won its eleventh CIC championship in twelve years when they defeated Marshalltown. Ames touchdowns were scored by Mickey Von Bergen from the 3 and 9 and Dave Childs from the 1. Extra points were scored by Ron Fain, Mike Cox, and Bob VanScoy.

AMES 14 ROOSEVELT DES MOINES 27

Roosevelt led Ames by a score of 21-0 before the Little Cyclones realized what was happening and began to settle down. Coming back at halftime, Mickey Von Bergen and a pass play from Dave Childs to Mike Cox accounted for two touchdowns to make the final score Roosevelt 27, Ames 14.

Girl Reserves provided service, social, and character-building opportunities during meetings every other Friday morning and through projects. Projects were the support of a foster child and, together with Hi-Y, sponsoring Friendship Week and Christmas presents for the county home. Highlights included a Dad-Daughter Date Night, Mother-Daughter Tea, and Big Pal, Little Pal Picnic. Money for these activities was raised by selling Christmas sprays and pencils.

Sponsors were Miss Edna Wilcox, Mrs. Charlotte Whitney, Mrs. Elizabeth Randolph, Miss Marilyn Stafford, and Mrs. Joan Brokken. Sheila Porter was president first semester and Linda Martin was vice-president; second semester their positions were alternated. Pat Carney was secretary and Dallas Wall, treasurer. Presidents of the homeroom representatives were Donna Clark and Barbara Buchwald.

HI-Y EXTENDS HIGH STANDARDS

Committee members for the Teens Against Polio Drive: Dallas Wall, Sheila Porter, Tom Pumroy, Nancy Preston, Pat Patterson.

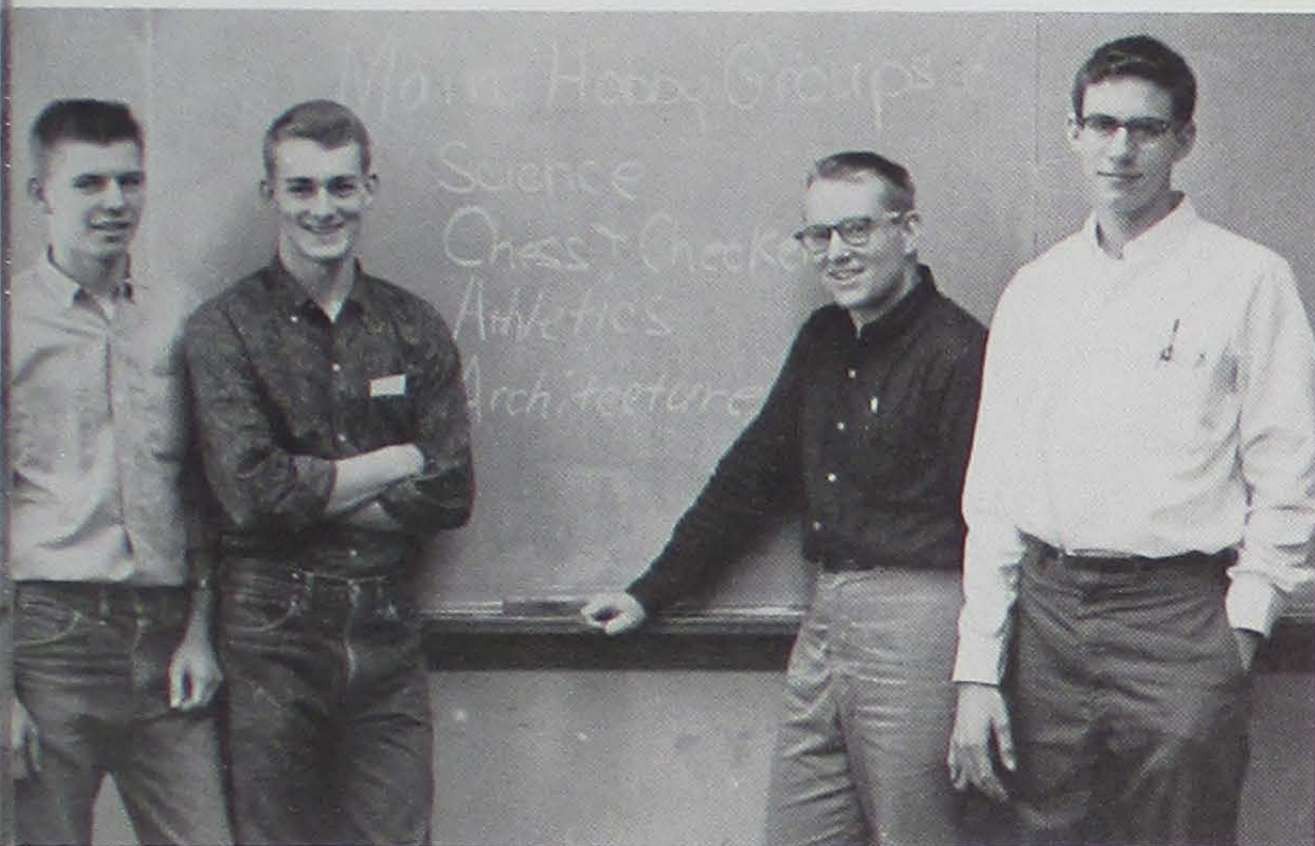

"The purpose of the club shall be to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. In advancing this purpose the club shall engage in various activities designed to be a service to the school and community and to spread the reputation of the school." These are the objectives of Hi-Y as stated in the Hi-Y constitution.

Some of the various activities in which members engaged were Firesides at Lynn Fuhrer Lodge, play nights in the gym, hobby group meetings, and a refreshment stand at home football and basketball games. Both Hi-Y and Girl Reserves worked together in organizing the County Home Christmas Party, Friendship Week, and the Teens Against Polio Drive for which $3500 was raised.

Meetings, which were attended by all boys in Ames High, were presided over by the cabinet. First semester officers this year were: Steve Jensen, president; Mickey Von Bergen, vice-president; Chuck Dodge, secretary; and Ed Bargfield, treasurer. Second semester officers were: Ron Jones, president; Denny Tice, vice-president; Gary Sutton, secretary; and Ed Bargfield, treasurer. Working closely with the cabinet were the hobby group leaders and the representatives, one of whom was elected from each homeroom.

CONCERT BAND

When the band was talked about at Ames High, which band should have been specified since there were four different ones. Concert band was a large symphonic group of 83 members; marching band of 92 members played and marched on the field at all home football games; pep band was a smaller group that played at pep assemblies and home basketball games; and the dance band played for various functions requiring a small musical group. Students in one or more of these groups were benefited by the opportunities to play good music, to prepare programs, and to give public concerts. The only qualification necessary to belong was to be able to play reasonably well one of the instruments found in the band.

Projects of band throughout the year included a candy sale in the fall, the spring concert, and the Tri-City Band Festival held this year at Webster City. Officers elected by bandmembers this year were: Barbara Buchwald, president; Gretchen Wildman, vice-president; Joan Holtz, secretary-treasurer; and Jerry Clark, librarian.

ORCHESTRA

This year the Ames High Concert Orchestra was honored with an invitation to perform for the String Ensemble at the State University of Iowa in March. To earn money for the trip, orchestra members sold book covers and candy.

Other performances included the Mid-Winter Concert, the Pops Concert, and a school assembly. Nine students also placed in All-State tryouts and played in the orchestra with many of the best student musicians in Iowa. They were Margaret Shrader, first chair viola; Gretchen Wildman, first chair trombone; Barb Buchwald, second chair clarinet; Sally Howard, bass; Jo Ellen Sawyer, viola; Nel Bruner, cello; Pam Owings, cello; Ilene Wardle, violin; and Lynda Richards, viola.

Mr. Douglas Engelhardt directed the orchestra, and a council met with him every Tuesday noon to help in planning. Officers were Jim Wiener, president; Ken Torrey, vice-president; Margaret Shrader, treasurer; Lynda Richards, assistant treasurer; Lars Laslett, head librarian; Karma Schauer, assistant librarian; and Alison Shepherd, publicity chairman.

MIXED CHORUSES

The sophomore and junior-senior mixed choruses offered an opportunity for mixed voice singing to selected students who were not in choir. Each chorus met twice a week as a class to learn singing technique and to practice for performances. The groups performed together in the Christmas program, during Friendship Week, and at the Spring Concert; the junior-senior chorus sang for parents as well.

For the first semester junior-senior chorus, Cindy Shocky was president; Bruce Woods was vice-president; Kris Manning, secretary-treasurer; Rein Saral, librarian; and Karen Skarshaug and Jim Merrick, robe keepers. President of the sophomore chorus was Susan Miller; vice-president was Sue Soult; secretary-treasurer, Nancy Hazel; librarian, Bill Jackson; and robe keepers were Sue Ethington and Wally Stephenson.

For any student who wished to sing for the pure pleasure of it, there was a place in one of the sections of the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs. These sections, which were directed by Mr. Wayne Cross, met as classes a few times a week.

All three sections of Girls' Glee Club sang as one group at the Christmas Program, a Girl Reserve meeting, the Spring Program, Friendship Week, and Baccalaureate; the sophomores also performed for their parents. Presidents of the sections were Peggy Billings, Janet Rah, and Sherry Martin.

The three sections of Boys' Glee Club participated in the Christmas and Spring Programs and performed for Ames service clubs and at a Hi-Y meeting as well. Presidents of the Boys' Glee Club were Mike Spear, Tom Buchholtz, and Jim Jeffries.

Gabriel and the Archangel talk shop.

Although technically it was considered as an activity, the dramatics organization was conducted as a regular class. Members attended meetings three times a week during one of the six daily periods.

Within the department itself there were two sections. Beginning Dramatics for sophomores gives students the elementary training required of the members in Advanced Dramatics, most of whom were juniors and seniors. In addition, those students who excelled in dramatics and who met certain requirements based on a point system were eligible to become members of the honorary Palm Club. Officers of Palm Club were: John Carter, president; Lani Kuncl, vice-president; Marilyn Dunlap, secretary; and Yvonne Barton, treasurer.

DEBATE AND SPEECH CLUB

Actively engaged in such verbal activities as extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and debate, the members of the Debate and Speech Club primarily studied labor-management relations this season. But the visible verbosity was only one facet. In order to develop effective speaking procedures, much research on and analysis of the issue was first necessary.

Both the ability to reason logically and correct evaluation were encouraged. Some of the Iowa High School Forensic League tournaments attended this year were the Brindley debate and discussion conference at Cedar Falls, the Dodger Invitational at Fort Dodge, and the Iowa State University Speech Invitational.

Guiding and helping the club with its speech activities was the sponsor, Mrs. Kay Garrett. Officers were: Russell Hagaman, president; Karen Fox, vice-president, and Marion Quinn, secretary.

To become acquainted with the customs and culture of the people whose languages they were studying in class was the aim of the French and Spanish Clubs. Among the activities of the Spanish Club were a Spring Fiesta and a dinner at Christmas time with the French Club. As well as the dinner, the French Club had a Mardi Gras.

Serving the Spanish Club were Miss Sharon Roberts as sponsor; Vicki Skortman, president; Barb Wilcox, vice-president; Peggy Billings, secretary; and Cheri Karns, treasurer. With Mrs. Dorothy Vandecar as sponsor, French Club officers were Vicky Kirkham, president; Susie Dicke, vice-president; Judy Hutchison, secretary-treasurer.

With Mr. William Ripp as sponsor, the major project of the Latin Club was the Roman Banquet. Officers were Paul Anderson and Hank Heath, Co-Chairmen; Teresa Martini, secretary-treasurer; and Lenesa Legvold, program chairman.

With a German choir directed by Ron Jones, a German band directed by Dick Trexel, and interesting monthly meetings, members of German Club became better acquainted with Germany and her customs. Miss Barbara Von Wittich was sponsor; officers were Mary Schwartz, president; Bob Talcott, vice-president; Ann Kirkham, secretary, and Ilo Leppick, public relations.

JOURNALISM

Learning to successfully use and control the written word for an express effect was the purpose of the journalism classes. In producing The Web every week, students in the two journalism classes, one each semester, developed abilities in gathering, analyzing, and writing news. Other skills gained were in writing headlines and feature stories, planning page make-ups, and arranging for photographs.

In addition to publishing the Web, the Spelling Bee and the Safe Driving Contest were also projects of the journalism classes. The qualities necessary to be a member of one of these groups were ability and interest in writing.

Mrs. Charlotte Whitney guided the groups in their studies and work. Editor-in-chief first semester was Mary Brown, and second semester this duty was shared by Tessie Pappas and Lars Laslett.

STUDENTS STUDY WRITING

"How to Read a Newspaper" was the topic emphasized this year by Cubs' Club. The members of Cubs' Club spent the year studying all the facets of newspapers. All the knowledge gained was put to use getting out the first issue of the Web for second semester.

Mrs. Charlotte Whitney sponsored the group which had as officers: Shirley Bailey, president; Bill Rosebrook, vice-president; and Nancy Smalling, secretary.

Creative Writing Club had as its prime objective the publication of Scripture second semester. At the bi-monthly meetings the writing of short stories, plays, novelettes, and poems was studied, and the writings of the individual members were criticized and evaluated.

Sponsored by Mrs. Dolores Dreesman, the group elected as officers this year: Marion Quinn, president; Alice Bancroft, vice-president and treasurer; and Lynda Richards, secretary.

LIBRARY CLUB

The many books, periodicals, and reference material contained in the school library are essential to every student in all the various classes throughout the schoolyear. Organized as a service club, the members of Library Club worked continually to assist students in every possible way. Shelving new books, repairing worn books, keeping the magazines in order, arranging displays in the display case, and sending out overdue notices on books were just a few of their many activities.

Each member spent two periods a week working in the library, made one book report, planned one display for the display case, and attended all the weekly meetings.

In its first year as a member of the State Library Club, Mrs. Elizabeth Dickenson was in charge of the Ames High Library Club. Officers were Carmen Catron, president, and Bev Novak, secretary.

F.H.A.

Activities of the Future Homemakers of America were based on the theme "Getting to Know You," which means becoming acquainted with the ways of life within our own state, across the nation, and throughout the world. This theme was carried out in co-operation with the national Future Homemakers organization. Membership was open to every girl enrolled in a homemaking course formerly or this year.

Miss Betty Trout sponsored the group, of which Jo Boston was elected president; Nancy Carr, vice-president; Judy Kooser, secretary; Judy Gunnerson, treasurer; Linda Wheelock, parliamentarian; Pat Barnhart, historian; Nancy Durian, public relations chairman; Pam Owings, music chairman; Cheyenne Shelton, recreation chairman. Barbara Dennis was District VII historian.

STUDENT TREASURERS

The treasurer of each of the student activities was responsible for receiving, disbursing, and accounting for all the money used by that organization. Selected by the sponsors on the basis of their responsibility, dependability, thoroughness, and diligence, the student treasurers were directly responsible to Miss Mary McNally, General Treasurer of Ames High.

Being in charge of the monetary affairs entailed drawing up the year's budget, submitting the cash books each month to Miss McNally, and making a financial report at the end of the year.

Miss McNally was assisted this year by Donna Clark, senior.

FIRE SQUAD KEEPS ORDER

Mr. Walter Wood with co-firechiefs Mike Biery and Don Toms.

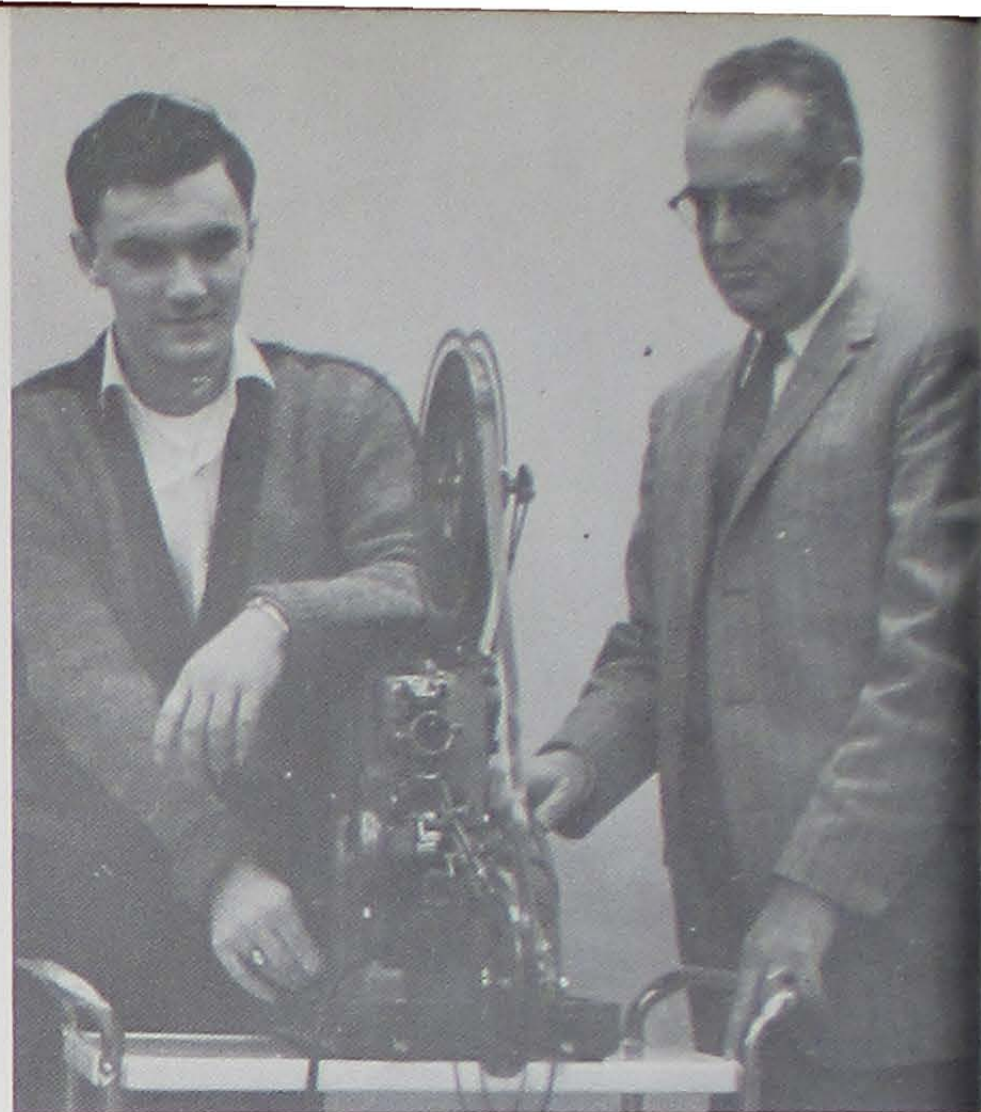

With the increased number of students at Ames High, it was more important than ever before that the Fire Squad fulfill its duty of preventing confusion and congestion in the corridors at all times.

This year the members met on Thursday noons under the direction of Mr. Walter Wood, sponsor. Co-firechiefs were Don Toms and Mike Biery; the secretary-treasurer was Steve Dreeszen.

FILM OPERATOR'S CLUB

For the care of equipment and the showing of visual aids, an important part of many courses at Ames High, credit goes to the members of the Film Operators Club. Trained by Mr. Gerald Sielert, sponsor, members were: Conrad Stephenson, first semester president, Mike Miller, second semester president, John Walkup, Ron Foderberg, Art Bates, and Karen Fox.

Mike and Mr. Sielert rewind a film.

P.E.C.A.

At the early hour of 8:00 on Friday mornings, the members of DECA assembled, perhaps a bit sleepily, for the club meeting. Under the direction of Mr. Jim Overturf, the Ames High branch of the Distributive Education Club of America was in its second year of operation. It was the objective of the club to encourage members to develop leadership in the field of distributing information on career opportunities. Only members enrolled in Cooperative Distributive Education were members.

Officers this year were: Fred Peake, president; Denny Tice, vice-president; Karyn Mullica, secretary; and Rita Bappe, treasurer.

SCIENCE STUDENTS WORK IN SEMINAR

Below: Ilo demonstrates his project for mutating seeds.

Every Tuesday evening Ames High science teachers and scientists in this community met with students who had special enthusiasm for science, a high academic standing, and a good rating on the seminar entrance test. Lectures and discussions were given on various subjects; and the students developed individual projects, with help from the staff when requested. The staff elected Dr. J. E. McFarland, Dr. P. H. Carr, and Mr. Richard Kniseley as a council to help the Ames High science teachers plan the seminar activities.

During the first semester, all interested sophomores met together as a separate group. The ten who continued during the second semester did so as members of Science Seminar.

HIGHLIGHTS

The undercurrent of enthusiasm for Homecoming turned into a tumultuous sea of excitement beginning with the pep assembly Friday, October 16. Here co-football captains Steve Jensen and Blaine Zenor increased the tension by stalling before they announced that Katie Bappe was to be the 1959 Homecoming Queen with Carol Black and Margie Walsh as her attendants.

After the assembly, a snake dance and a parade downtown served to heighten the annual Homecoming fever. The Queen, her attendants, the marching band, Pep Club, the student body, and the float carrying the football team gathered before the City Hall to hear a rally speech by Mayor Pearle De Hart.

In the terrific downpour of rain that night, neither the spirits of the students in the stands nor of the boys on the field were drastically dampened in spite of the fact that the opposition, Burlington, won the game.

Following the game, students attended the Homecoming Dance, which was held in the high school gym. There the music provided by Chuck Dodge's band and the mums worn by the girls provided a satisfying finish to the excitement of the day.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL NIGHT

Although no one really expected a normal schoolday situation, Back-to-School Night gave the parents of Ames High students a chance to observe the school environment. Occurring on Nov. 12, during American Education Week, Back-to-School Night provided an opportunity for parents to see how the school operates. This they did by following the Friday morning schedule with their sons or daughters. Navigation in the halls became a bit difficult when 1000 parents and over 700 students changed classes.

As they attended classes with their offspring, parents met teachers and observed how the various classes were conducted. Those students and parents who had a study hall were invited to the cafeteria where refreshments were served from 8:00 to 10:00 P.M. After the third period class, boys took their parents to one of the Hi-Y hobby groups and the girls and their parents met in the auditorium to hear a speech entitled "Yearning for Learning" given by Mr. W. Henry Galbreth. At 10:00 school was dismissed after one of the longest days students had spent in the rooms and corridors of Ames High.

Below: This is what it's like, folks.

FRIENDSHIP WEEK

"Unchanging Patterns in a Changing World," the theme for the 34th Friendship Week, invited students to take an inward look at themselves. In each of three assemblies state representative Ray C. Cunningham pointed out to the students their responsibilities to themselves, to others, and to the global community.

This year the week of February 1 to 5 was set aside for the purpose of this spiritual re-evaluation. On Monday and Friday mornings huddle groups met in each homeroom. In these groups on Monday students discuss such topics as cheating, dishonesty, and popularity. The Friday huddle groups reviewed the week and made suggestions for changes and improvements in subsequent years.

During fifth period on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday each class held a forum in the auditorium. In the forums Mr. Cunningham talked with the students about specific problems such as dating and determining morals. Private conferences with Mr. Cunningham were also available for anyone wishing to talk further. A staff tea and Girl Reserve and Hi-Y cabinet meetings were also held to provide opportunities for students and faculty to meet Mr. Cunningham.

SPIRIT DANCE

Students "could have danced all night" at the Spirit Dance January 25 in the study hall, which was decorated as a ballroom to carry out the theme "My Fair Lady." After several days of suspense, Linda Martin was announced as Spirit Sweetheart of 1960 and crowned by Master of Ceremonies Jim Piper. Her attendants, Marilyn Dunlap and Mary Kay Baldus, were presented with corsages. Sweetheart Linda drew Michele Moore's name for the free yearbook.

Alison Shepherd, assistant SPIRIT editor, was in charge of the party; Karen Fox planned refreshments, and Emily Laslett headed the publicity committee.

SPRING EVENTS

GRADUATION

In spite of heavy showers throughout the week, the evenings of Sunday, May 22, and Thursday, May 26, were clear and beautiful. Thus it was possible to hold Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises out of doors in the Lincoln Way Stadium.

At the Sunday evening Baccalaureate service, the Reverend Robert W. Larsen of Bethesda Lutheran Church gave the class sermon, "Voices from Inner Space" and the Girls' Glee Clubs furnished music.

Below: Although many were anxious.

Above: Juniors worked many hours to create "atmosphere" for an enchanted evening.

JUNIORS PRESENT "WHISPERING BLUES"

Blue and white streamers, white branches and pastel birds and butterflies transformed the gymnasium for "Whispering Blues." The seniors were guests of the juniors at the annual junior-senior frolic, held May 2. Entertainment was offered in the auditorium following the dinner. Dancing to the music of Vance Dixon and movies for nondancers continued until midnight, when the juniors were guests of the Moose Club and the seniors of the Elks until early morning.

PALM CLUB AND ONE ACTS

The purpose of Palm Club, the honorary drama club, is to promote interest in drama among students and the people of Ames. Initiations were held each semester for members of drama who had fulfilled the requirements.

Officers this year were John Carter, president; Lani Kuncl, vice president; Marilyn Dunlap, secretary; Yvonne Barton, treasurer.

May 20 was the date for three one-act plays, "Early Frost," "Dark Wind" and "The Bad Penny" produced by members of the drama department. Under the supervision of Robert Hamilton, head of the department, the plays were student directed by Linda Martin, Tom Smith and John Carter.

AMES HOSTS C.I.C. MEET

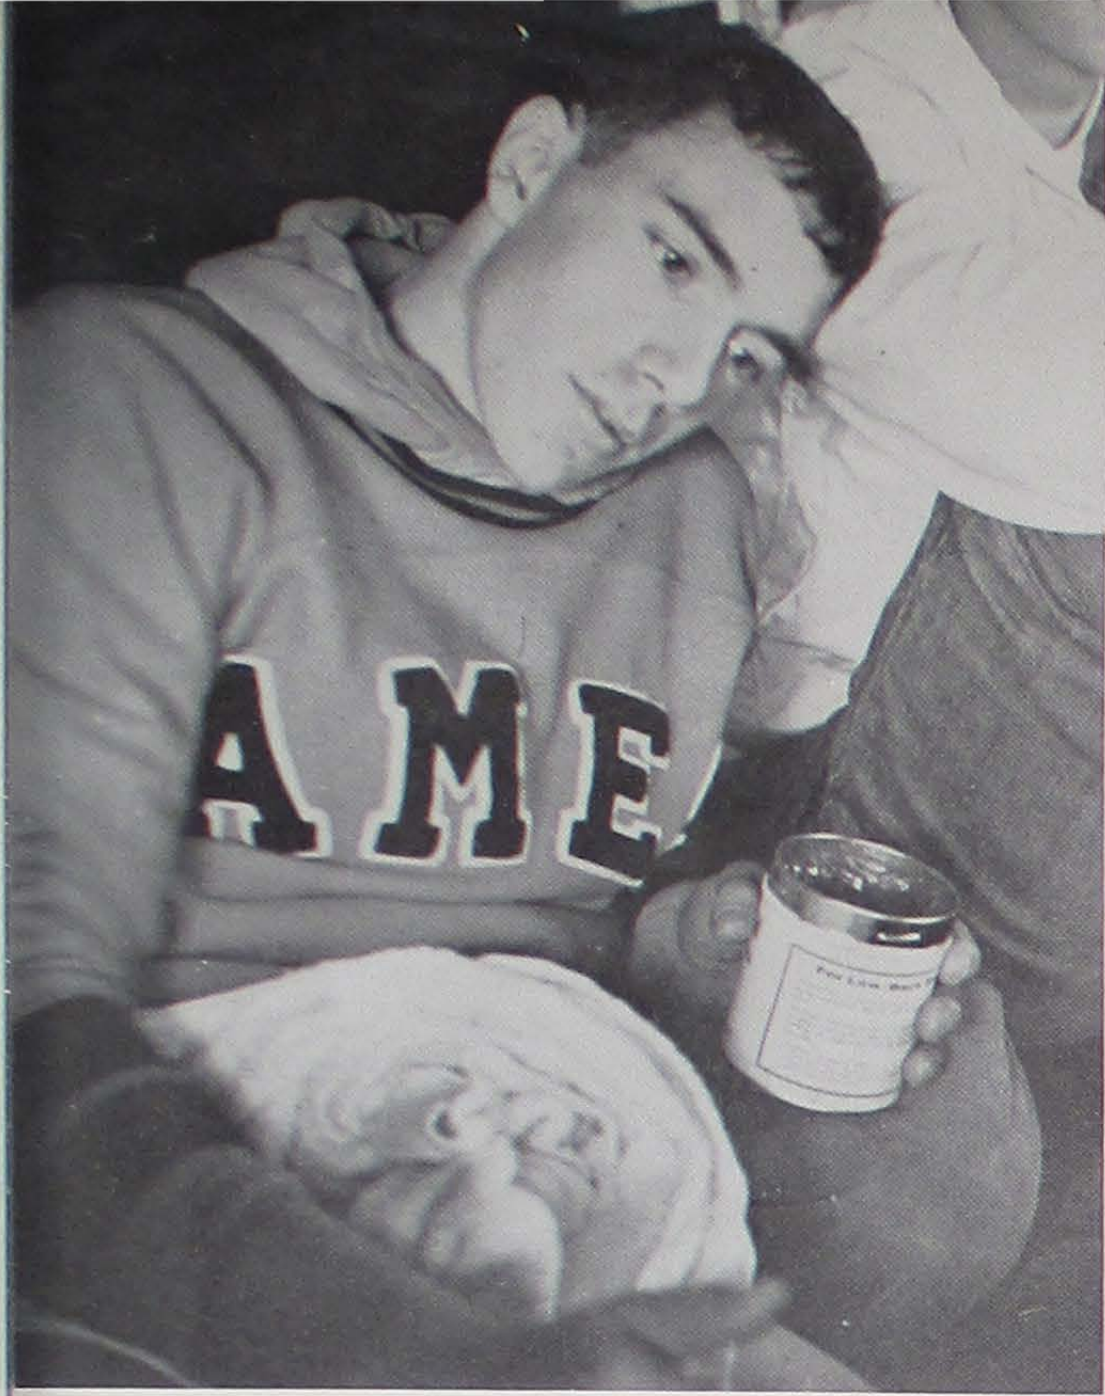

One of the highlights of this year's track season was the Central Iowa Conference meet held at Lincoln Way Stadium. Before a packed house, the Little Cyclone Thinclads ran away with the meet, scoring $118\frac{1}{3}$ points to runner-up Marshalltown's 74 and Newton's $51\frac{1}{2}$. Highlight of the evening was Blaine Zenor's 4.23.6 mile, the fourth fastest time ever recorded by an Iowa prep.
